EVERLÖV / AUCTION 39 - THE SALE IS RECALLED

We have been very much looking forward to Friday's sale of the fantastic Everlov treasure. Unfortunately, we have to announce that the sale will not happen.

Gunnar Ekström's foundation for numismatic research and Sven Svensson's foundation for numismatics have decided to acquire the collection in its entirety with the intention that it will go to the Royal Coin Cabinet / Swedish Economic Museum. The acquisition has been made possible because the seller has preferred this solution over sale through auction.

Through Myntauktioner's handling of the collection, including the establishment of a high-quality catalog of the same, marketing, etc., it has become possible for the seller to finally receive market-based compensation for the collection. The chairman of the Swedish Numismatic Society is the one who has been the driving force in the process for this solution.

Although we have no opinion on whether the Everlov collection is sold privately or stored in a museum, we deeply regret the inconveniences and shattered expectations that the canceled sale entails for our customers.
